

BEING THANKFUL FOR OUR BLESSINGS

Across the United States, families are settling down for the Thanksgiving weekend. Even if we do not celebrate Thanksgiving, the concept of gratitude and giving thanks is one we should embrace daily as Muslims. Every blessing we have, big or small, is through Allah's mercy and grace. We often fail to take pause and reflect on how much we have to be thankful for.

Engaging in a daily practice of gratitude increases our faith, reduces our stress and negativity since we focus less on things to complain about, and reaffirms our love for our creator. And among His promises to us is this, "If you are grateful, I will certainly give you more" (Surah Ibrahim 14:7)

Here at Mishkah we have much to be thankful about right now:

1. We recently signed an important academic agreement with the University of Ezzitouna in Tunis that will be of great benefit especially to our Arabic language students. View the pictures and video from the signing ceremony we had in Tampa.
2. By Allah's grace our Dual Enrollment High School Program keeps growing, giving us the ability to play a greater role in nurturing the next generation. We now have six schools participating - Al-Amal School, Al-Bayaan Academy, Toledo Islamic School, Sunrise Academy, MDQ Academy, and Al-Ihsan Academy Learn more about how your high school students can benefit.
3. Through the generosity of our donors, we are making headway in paying for our headquarters - having the building is critical to our future goals of expanding and being an accredited university. We still need your help so please consider giving especially now at the end of the year.
4. We are gearing for another semester here at Mishkah. We are grateful that Allah continues to guide us in this mission of Islamic education. Please join us and let's travel together on the path of knowledge.

May Allah, who is most generous, increase upon us His favors.
